

Confidentiality Policy

ABE Partners AB

By using our website and services, you approve that your Personal Data are used in the ways hereby stated in this Confidentiality Policy.

We process Personal Data to identify you as client and to handle and deliver ordered services and prescriptive services, as well as Personal Data needed for invoicing and payment of the services you are using.

We may use Personal Data gathered from an earlier contact with us to deliver better services.

We store your Personal Data and information about which services you are using as base for invoicing, newsletters, important information regarding your services, offers and tips on how to use our services.

When visiting our website, www.abepartners.se, we can only identify your computer's IP address. You will remain anonymous, if you do not choose to leave Data that may be used to identify you, for example by sending e-mail messages to us or by leaving other information about yourself or your business.

ABE Partners AB will not give away, sell or rent out Data about you to a third party and we always strive to never share more Personal Data than absolutely necessary with our suppliers.

Our systems are secured by 2-factor authentication and passwords.

We use SSL-based security when possible in all communication.

Employees of ABE Partners AB have signed confidentiality agreements.

You can always contact us to check if your Data is correct, or ask us to update, change or erase your Data. (Do not forget to state your e-mail address.)

We store Personal Data as long as we have a documented use for the storage. Please contact our Data Protection Officer for more details.
